Regiment; I have ſeene it approved, how many times
I know not, but to make the number more, I have Great hope in this. I will betweene the paſſages of This project, come in with my applyance: Let us
Put it in execution; and haſten the ſucceſſe, which doubt not
Will bring forth comfort. Floriſh. Exeunt.

Actus Quintus.

Scæna 1. Enter Theſius, Perithous, Hipolita, attendants.

Theſ. Now let 'em enter, and before the gods
Tender their holy prayers: Let the Temples
Burne bright with sacred fires, and the Altars
In hallowed clouds commend their ſwelling Incenſe
To thoſe above us: Let no due be wanting,
Floriſh of Cornets.
They have a noble worke in hand, will honour
The very powers that love 'em.

Enter Palamon and Arcite, and their Knights.

Per. Sir they enter.

Theſ. You valiant and ſtrong harted Enemies
You royall German foes, that this day come
To blow that nearneſſe out that flames betweene ye;
Lay by your anger for an houre, and dove-like
Before the holy Altars of your helpers
(The all feard gods) bow downe your ſtubborne bodies,
Your ire is more than mortall; So your helpe be,
And as the gods regard ye, fight with Iuſtice,
I le leave you to your prayers, and betwixt ye
I part my wiſhes.

Per. Honour crowne the worthieſt.
Exit Theſeus, and his traine.

Pal. The glaſſe is running now that cannot finiſh
Till one of us expire: Thinke you but thus,
That were there ought in me which ſtrove to ſhow
